Review of Book: I was very excited to be chosen to read and write a review for this special animated book! When we received it, my children loved all of the bright and beautiful colors that illustrate God's creation, on their level! What I liked most, was that the story was written on a child's level of thinking and understanding, and also that the clings can be used again and again, for hours and hours of fun, imagination play! This book will definitely be staying in our family for many years to come, to be passed on to possibly even grand children. The wall clings can be re-used by peeling off slowly, and repositioning once again later, or they can stay put; whichever you and your child choose. Either way, whether you use them once, or a dozen times, the book is a definite keeper! FTC Guidelines disclosure, I must state that I was given a copy of the book, "The Story of Noah's Ark" from the publisher in exchange for my review. My opinions are expressly my own, and are in no way influenced positively or negatively, due to receiving this book in exchange for the review.

What B (age 7, second grade) Thought- I like the story about Noah's ark, but they forgot to put in Noah's sons and their wives. There were wall clings, those were really fun. They were really fun, because we made a neat scene with them. Noah built a big ark to hold every kind of animal, two of every kind (one female and one male). There were good illustrations. There were snakes, dogs, giraffes, pigs, turtles, monkeys and many more animals that I really enjoy. I think this book is good for kids my age. What C (age 5, kindergarten) Thought- I like the book. I think it was fun to have it read to me. My favorite part was the rainbow and the animals were safe inside Noah's ark. Slowly the water began to evaporate and Noah sent out the dove to find dry land. And the sun slowly began to come out. And the rainbow began to come out as a sign that God would never flood the earth again. I like the wall clings. It was fun putting them on the wall, instead of on the window or door. I think it would be good for kids my age. My thoughts- My kids love Noah and the ark and wall clings, so this book was perfect for them. I read the book different times to them and B enjoyed reading it to C. After they put the wall clings on the wall, they looked at the illustrations to see what animals they had put on the wall. I thought this book was cute and well written. I really enjoyed studying the illustrations on each page. The wall clings looked spectacular on our wall. I did remember to put them on one of the smooth walls in our house, because we stuck wall clings on our bumpy walls once and they did not stick. I wondered why Noah's sons and wives were not included. When I read the story of Noah's ark, I like having all the characters and the rest of the complete story. I highly recommend this story, because all kids should know the story of Noah's ark and the wall clings make it even more fun. Disclosure of Material Connection- I received The Story of Noah's Ark by Lori C. Froeb and illustrated by Luana Rinaldo for free from the Kregel Publications' Blog Tour. I was not required to write a positive review. The opinions I have expressed are my own. I am disclosing this in accordance with the Federal Trade Commission's 16 CFR, Part 255.

My 6 year old son and I just read and completed The Story of Noah's Ark: Storybook and Wall Clings written by Lori C. Froeb and illustrated by Luana Rinaldo. It was wonderful! The text is written at a 1st-2nd grade level, so early readers can read many of the words. It captures the full Bible story and it's lessons in a manner that children can easily understand. The illustrations are delightful - the big chunky animals have animated expressions, and almost seem to invite you to play along with them! The playful tigers, swinging monkeys, cheerful bumblebees, spotted puppies, hungry piglets and flitting butterflies are sure to capture your child's imagination! The book comes with two pages of wall clings which stick to clean walls, but peel right off, so they can retell the story. My son actually wanted to split his pictures between his bedroom and the playroom, and there were still plenty of stickers for both rooms! Research says that we learn from reading/listening, but we learn much more when an element of play, discovery or re-teaching is added to the reading. This storybook with wall clings does just that - it invites children to continue discovering the Bible story long after the last pages are read. This is a great gift for young children (ages 0-7). Infants could enjoy the bright pictures in their nursery, toddlers will enjoy naming the diverse animals, and older children will enjoy 'playing school' while telling the story to their friends. I would recommend the book for families, for homeschoolers, for Christian educators, and for Sunday Schools. I hope they'll publish more Bible stories with wall clings - I'd love to give them as gifts for years to come!
