From the tiniest krill to the large gray whale, ocean creatures swim madly through Wish for a Fish--you'll be impressed with just how much information gets packed into the clever Seuss-style rhymes. Cat in the Hat, aboard the S.S. Undersea Glubber, narrates this fact-filled story of life under the sea, along with sidekicks Thing One and Thing Two. You'll learn all about the ocean's food chain, different light zones, and fascinating information about the large mammals that live there. The phonics-based word patterns make excellent early reading practice for any little beachcomber. How can you go wrong with catchy paragraphs like "baleen fills the blue whale's mouth like a grill. As water flows through it, it strains out the krill?" --Jill Lightner

Kindergarten-Grade 3 Two titles that feature that favorite old cat, along with Thing One, Thing Two, and Sally and Dick. Both are told in rhythmic couplets. Di-no-saur introduces fossils using a museum as the setting. "With a club for a tail/and a back full of spikes,/this dino was strong /like an army tank. Yikes!" The dinosaurs' names are given, as well as their physical traits. Fish uses a deep-sea sub to take readers through five undersea zones, illustrating the types of fish that would be found at each depth. Even after close examination, the pictures cannot be easily distinguished from those drawn by Dr. Seuss. A good choice for kids who still like their nonfiction told in story form and laced with humor. Sharon R. Pearce, Geronimo Public School, OK Copyright 1999 Reed Business Information, Inc.

My 6yr Gran is so into sharks, ocean & creatures of the sea these days .. & months! Seuss delivers in a fun, colorful way, what inquiring little minds want to know. A thumbs up (& his Hark A Shark is a winner too!)

My son loves all kinds of animals and fish are no different. He read this book at school and had to have it for home. Although some of the the vocab is a bit challenging for a first grader, he is so into the book that he pushes through all the hard words so he can finish reading. Very fun and educational.

This was another great find for our Ocean week theme for homeschooling. Wish for a Fish was another fun book to read. I am glad I bought this book as well to add to our collection at home. My son loved it very much.

This is a phenomenal book for learning about oceans. I used it in our homeschool lessons for my 3-yo and 5-yo. We had at least a dozen books about oceans, and this was the best at describing the oceanic zones. I enjoyed the presentation and my 5-yo has the zones memorized thanks to this book. It's engaging, fact-based (except for the talking cat wearing a hat of course) and cute.

Fabulous book! Very educational, I learned several things I didn't even realize I didn't know about the sea. It was a little advanced for my 3 year old but she LOVED it, since she's obsessed with Dory, and she even asked some quite thoughtful questions! Will definitely be looking to order more in this series.

My three-year-old has learned a lot from this book, and it's interesting for me to read to her.

Great!

Does not disappoint - love the characters and illustrations!
