For more than 20 years, John Green has created popular Dover coloring books. He specializes in realistic drawings of people, animals, and places, and his recent titles range from Life in Old Japan to Dogs to Paint or Color.

I use these for my kids homeschool. They color these while we read about the different time eras. Most are fun and a good way to add a picture to text. There are a few with pictures that aren't completely kid-friendly (some bare bums and some topless pics) so you may want to look through them before just handing them to a young child.

Not only do you have information, about the history, of great tribe. There is some great pictures as well.

Item arrived with some damage, cosmetic in nature, but otherwise acceptable.

Are you looking for an interesting way to teach history? I recommend this book. The drawings are accurate and yet not too difficult to color.

Bought this for my grandma who is losing some cognitive functions. This company has a whole series of coloring books for adults. She LOVES them. They have nice little stories at the bottom and the scenes are interesting enough to keep her attention. I sent these books with some nice new colored pencils and she has really taken to them! Coloring and doodling can be quite therapeutic and meditative. She also enjoys word search puzzles but this is a nice change of pace, and especially nice when her mind isn't working as well or she isn't feeling well. The whole series of books is highly recommended. Send your grandma a package -- she'll love them! :-)

I wish it wasn't double sided as I can't use ink or marker without bleed through, but other than that one gripe this is an excellent "grownup"/educational coloring book.

We have several of these coloring books for Home-School study and I have never been unhappy with a single one. They are Amazing, Detailed and provide perfect little bites of information. Perfect for when I am reading or we are listening to a history audio book.

We love this book! All of the Dover books are packed with information and amazing coloring pictures. My 4th grade son loves these books, but my 1st grade daughter thinks they are too detailed for her;) We use them as a supplement to our homeschooling. The kids color while I read and they love it!
