National Geographic Traveler, September 2006'Lonely Planet Phrasebooks. Portable, pocket-size, cheap, and available for almost any country you might want to visit...'

Who We Are At Lonely Planet, we see our job as inspiring and enabling travellers to connect with the world for their own benefit and for the benefit of the world at large.
What We Do * We offer travellers the world's richest travel advice, informed by the collective wisdom of over 350 Lonely Planet authors living in 37 countries and fluent in 70 languages. * We are relentless in finding the special, the unique and the different for travellers wherever they are. * When we update our guidebooks, we check every listing, in person, every time. * We always offer the trusted filter for those who are curious, open minded and independent. * We challenge our growing community of travellers; leading debate and discussion about travel and the world. * We tell it like it is without fear or favor in service of the travellers; not clouded by any other motive.
What We Believe We believe that travel leads to a deeper cultural understanding and compassion and therefore a better world.

Very good phrasebook, has phonetic transcription as well for those who were too lazy to learn how czech letters are pronounced.

No problems

I am satisfied with this product.

I bought this for a 3 day vacation in Prague and found the translations and pronunciation notes to be fairly accurate and overall the book was helpful so that I wasn't just an obnoxious tourist who assumes everyone speaks English.

Love these special books from Czech Republic. fast safe ship

This is a fantastic guide to the Czech language! I learned the few words that I was able to use while in Prague from this book! It's kinda tough to use it in conversation. 50% of Czechs speak english anyway, so you won't be totally lost, but it's always nice to make the effort to say a few words in their language. Na shledanou!

I used this book for a week in Prague. I found this book to be very well organized and useful. It is also small enough to throw in your bag or purse for the day. It is definitely helpful to learn a few greetings and such as the people seemed much more helpful when you were putting an effort into trying their language.

Great for travel
