The Commission: The Uncensored History Of The 9/11 Investigation

Synopsis

In a work of history that will make headlines, New York Times reporter Philip Shenon investigates the investigation of 9/11 and tells the inside story of most important federal commission since the the Warren Commission. Shenon uncovers startling new information about the inner workings of the 9/11 Commission and its relationship with the Bush White House. The Commission will change our understanding of the 9/11 investigation -- and of the attacks themselves. --This text refers to an out of print or unavailable edition of this title.

Shenon does it again. This author shows us how men and women of great intelligence, independence and integrity being engaged in a grueling effort to reach unanimous conclusions about 9-11 sadly find themselves manipulated, stymied and managed by the dark side. Nobody yet has any idea how this mass murder plot was pulled together. The only actual investigative leads, those clearly leading to the Saudi Ambassador are stamped out like a brush fire. In the end, Bush not only shields the Saudis, he also insists on protecting himself, Cheney and Rice from even the mildest criticism. Air Force General Myers and CIA director Tenent also flat-out lied under oath about the death of 3,000 civilians. Neither went to prison or even lost a day's pay. Maybe in 100 years the truth will start to be accepted.

Even years after the commission report came out, this account (recommended to me by an Italian relative) is gripping and disturbing. I followed the commission's work carefully - reading all accounts in the New York Times, etc. - but always assumed they were covering up Bush's failures and Saudi involvement. This book, in describing how the commission went about its work, justifies my assumptions, and much more. The weakness of the two heads of the commission is astonishing. They wanted a unanimous report, but they got it at the expense of truth. The fact that they gave the job over to a republican partisan is jaw dropping. Those of you who are young enough may find out the truth in 50 years or so, but we certainly don't know it now. And, as usual, there was no accountability. I think it is a must read for every American, even now.

If we hold on to our critical faculties and thinking this book opens our eyes and see the unseen. The lies and the failure of the the elected officials that are put in office to serve the public have failed us miserably. History will reveal and separate the lies we were fed on a daily basis by the media. We live in an Industrial society that in Eisenhowers farewell speech, he asked the people to beware of the Industrial Military Complex. Everyone remembers where they were on that horrific day. If you are old enough you knew and recall the day a President was assassinated in 1963. Like a scene from "The Newsroom" on HBO where were the reporters like Huntley and Brinkley, Walter Croncrite, etc. Instead we were fed ...repeating videos of towers falling, people running, smoke and death. Traumatizing and abusing a society of "Shock and Awe". Everyone should read this book.

Very informative book and interesting perspective. Good read.

One thing you can be certain of: US government misuse of information, misinformation, cover-up, and "news management" (i.e., propaganda). The foul deed was done by islamists, and they are the enemy. Never forget that.

There is SO MUCH we still don't know about 9/11. And few seem to care

Years ago I was introduced to the corruption within our government when I printed out "Operation Northwoods." Since then I obtained a book written by US Undersecretary George Ball titled, "The Passionate Attachment." The book was published in 1992 and was shut down by lobbying interests. Ball's book carefully describes years where our politicians were either intimidated or bought out by Jewish lobbying groups. These lobbying interest had the best interest of Israel in mind and not that of the US. A book written by chalmers johnson, "Blowback" describes how we gained the resentment in many parts of the world by our mindless intrusion. There were terrible travesties committed on the Palestinians by Israel. We blindly supported these misdeeds and disregarded basically what the rest of the world thought of Israel's policies. This book by Shanon exemplifies what we as Americans have so readily succumbed to. We constantly fall prey to the spins by the media. Who controls the media? When those like Judge Napolitano step up and speak the truth they loose their TV programming. Napolitano lost his show "Freedom Watch." Again, good job Shanon. What we don't know as a voter is what keeps the crimes by our govt officials hidden from us and what keeps us further away from being a true democracy where the voter is intelligent and informed.

Seems to be a factual report of our government's actions at a time of crisis. It's too bad that the information wasn't available at the time our government was stumbling around.
