A graduate of Harvard Law School, Erwin Chemerinsky is the founding dean and distinguished professor of law and the Raymond Pryke Professor of First Amendment Law at the University of California, Irvine School of Law, with a joint appointment in political science. He lives in Irvine.

Whenever you have a class that is on a topic Chemerinsky has written a treatise on, YOU NEED TO BUY THE TREATISE! The only reason I got an A in Con law, after totally bombing my outline and group study sessions, was because Chemerinsky wrote a supplement. That supplement is the summation of absolutely everything I needed to know. His Fed. Jurisdiction supplement is turning out to be exactly like that. Don't hesitate. Just buy it and snicker as your classmates struggle. (Actually, don't do that. Don't feed into the law student stereotype.) If it weren't for cold calling, I don't think I'd need my textbook at all.

Taking Fed Courts? Buy this book. Read it. (Do your class reading too, then go here to have it make sense.) Everyone turns to Chemerinsky for Con Law, but I found this book just as useful. It's not going to give you the most intricate, nuanced perspective, but if you're getting lost in the theories and need to take a step back and put everything in (accurate) context and add some broader insight, use this book.

Only when a scholar knows the material intimately and in its full context can that scholar reveal such simple unvaried truths about the topic that those truths can answer any student's questions on the topic. Prof. C does this on every topic and subtopic in Federal Jurisdiction. Prof. C is a genius; he should be at USC, Stanford, or Yale.

Excellent resource at a reasonable price!

This book is a great supplement to a federal courts class or casebook. It explains topics nicely. Moreover, it covered the cases that were included in the casebook. I found it very useful!

Good law students. Nice reference for lawyers.

worth its weight in gold!

Excellent
